

André Fournelle marks
the territory in Sutton

Description

The multidisciplinary artist is well known for his sculptures, performances and installations

April 2, 2022

Until April 24, 2022, Arts Sutton premieres the exhibition *Mark the territory* by André Fournelle, a multidisciplinary artist renowned for his sculptures, his performances, his installations in art galleries and also for his works in situ in nature.

“Mark the territory is a rich, constant and coherent production that marks the memory and the territory, both in Quebec and abroad,” according to curator Suzanne Pressé.

The artist follows a constant work process using the fundamental natural elements of fire, water, earth and air.

The sculptures made with raw or natural materials such as barbed wire, pure pigments and coal, reveal the artist's vision of social issues. The coal is embedded in symbolic forms often connoted as the cross, the diamond, the spiral. The artist also follows a constant path using the fundamental natural elements of fire, water, earth and air.

and ephemeral, demonstrate his sensitivity to human fragility and his deep social commitment. Since the beginning of his prolific career, this humanist and outraged artist has produced works of innovative practices. His artistic vision undeniably contributes to the advancement of the arts.
