

Pause for poetry: Anne Cimon

Description

SPRING BLOSSOMS

for Angela

© Anne Cimon 2015

In the city you seek the garden

your pen flows

with rose-scented ink

fecund
with poems

bright
as daffodils.

Birds singing through bare branches

remind me
how sweetly you give.

You are far away

in China.

Here I see
green
tips
of crocuses

snowdrops
on suburban lawn.

You are amidst the cherry trees

a pink blossom

Image: ??? via StockPholio.com

*Anne Cimon is a Montreal freelance journalist and poet. She has published four books of poetry including the bilingual edition An Angel around the Corner/ Un ange autour du coin — borealispress.com. Her literary articles and book reviews have appeared in many publications including most recently in Montreal Serai Magazine — montrealserai.com*

Photo of Anne by Munira Avinger

Category

1. Poetry | Essay | Short Story

Tags

1. Anne Cimon

Date Created

June 2015